Captain Swing Nov 10 2020 The classic social history of the Great English Agricultural Uprising of 1830, from one of the greatest historians of our age. For generation upon generation, the English farm laborer lived in poverty and degradation. With the onset of the Industrial Revolution, however, new forces came into play—and when capitalism swept from the cities into the countryside, tensions reached the breaking point. From 1830 on, a series of revolts, known as the "Swing," shook England to its core. Here is the background of that upheaval, from its rise to its fall, and the people who tried to change their world. A masterpiece of British history.

Clinical Care Classification (CCC) System Version 2.5, 2nd Edition Sep 01 2022 " The Clinical Care Classification (CCC) System, a national nursing standard, is a respected resource for documenting patient and nursing care plans for the electronic health record (EHR).. This new edition of the Users Guide, written by one of the founders of the CCC System, has been modified to an abridged, easy-to-use version to help nurses learn quickly about the CCC System Version 2.5 and expedite their development of CCC-based plans of care. It clearly explains how to use the CCC System, including a description of the CCC model and examples of patient/nursing plans or care templates with their EHR screens and brief explanations. "

Perception in Multimodal Dialogue Systems Jul 19 2021 The IEEE Tutorial and Research Workshop on Perception and Interactive Technologies for Multimodal Dialogue Systems (PIT 2008) is the continuation of a successful series of workshops that started with an ISCA Tutorial and Research Workshop on Multimodal Dialogue Systems in 1999. This workshop was followed by a second one focusing on mobile dialogue systems (IDS 2002), a third one exploring the role of affect in dialogue (ADS 2004), and a fourth one focusing on perceptive interfaces (PIT 2006). Like its predecessors, PIT 2008 took place at Kloster Irsee in Bavaria. Due to the increasing interest in perceptive interfaces, we decided to hold a follow-up workshop on the themes discussed at PIT 2006, but encouraged above all papers with a focus on perception in multimodal dialogue systems. PIT 2008 received 37 papers covering the following topics (1) multimodal and spoken dialogue systems, (2) classification of dialogue acts and sound, (3) recognition of eye gaze, head poses, mimics and speech as well as combinations of modalities, (4) vocal emotion recognition, (5) human-like and social dialogue systems and (6) evaluation methods for multimodal dialogue systems. Noteworthy was the strong participation from industry at PIT 2008. Indeed, 17 of the accepted 37 papers come from industrial organizations or were written in collaboration with them. We would like to thank all authors for the effort they made with their submissions, and the Program Committee – nearly 50 distinguished researchers from industry and academia – who worked very hard to meet tight deadlines and selected the best contributions for the final program. Special thanks goes to our invited speaker, Anton Batliner from Friedrich-Alexander-Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg.

Computer Algebra Recipes Nov 22 2021 Computer algebra systems allow students to work on mathematical models more efficiently than in the case of pencil and paper. The use of such systems also leads to fewer errors and enables students to work on complex and computationally intensive models. Aimed at undergraduates in their second or third year, this book is filled with examples from a wide variety of disciplines, including biology, economics, medicine, engineering, game theory, physics, and chemistry. The text includes a large number of Maple(R) recipes.
